Dear Mr. Tymco:

The state of Washington proposes to offer $300,000 from the Governor's Strategic Reserve Fund in an effort to recruit a new HiTest facility to -Washington State. We believe this facility has significant potential to produce long term economic advantages to the state, create new jobs and advance development of new products. We seek to invest these funds to ensure this operation locates in the state and is as competitive as possible.

Because these funds are in the budget of our current fiscal year, they must be dispensed and spent no later than June 30, 2017. You would need to make a location decision by February 15, 2017, in order for these funds to be distributed by the deadline.

This assistance is offered subject to any legal requirements governing the funds to aid in workforce development, public infrastructure needed to support or sustain the operations of the business or facility, technical assistance, environmental analysis, relocation assistance or planning assistance. The State of Washington stands ready to welcome you into the community of innovative Washington companies like Boeing, Microsoft, Starbucks and Costco -- all companies that have changed the way the world lives. We have confidence that HiTest will do the same.

Sincerely,

Chris Green
Assistant Director
